Dear Friends and supporters,

Thank you so much for your continued prayers and for the many messages, notes, and emails over this past month. So many of you have reached out personally, and I cannot express how encouraging that has been to me. Your kindness and faithfulness are a constant reminder that I am not serving alone.

I am doing well and hope that each of you had a blessed Easter! I had the joy of celebrating at a local church where I am based. We saw a great number of visitors in attendance. The Lord truly moved in a special way, and it was such a blessing to witness several salvations. There was a sweet spirit present throughout the service, and it was an exciting reminder of the power of the Gospel.

Recently, I had the opportunity to travel back to Brazil for a week-long conference with my fellow Baptist International Missions, Inc. (BIMI) South American missionaries. It was an important and refreshing time of learning, encouragement, and reflection. I was especially grateful for the chance to be back in Brazil, a place that I miss greatly.

On our return journey to São Paulo from the conference, my friends and I experienced an unexpected situation that the Lord clearly used for His purposes. Our car suddenly began overheating and stalled while we were on the highway. By God's grace, we were very close to an exit and were able to safely coast off the road and stop near a small bakery. While waiting for the car to cool down, we spent some time at the bakery speaking with the two women working there. They were incredibly kind and concerned for our situation. This delay turned into a meaningful opportunity as we were able to share conversation with them and give each of them a John and Romans booklet.

BIMI Field Conference

Re-connecting with dear missionary friends!

Both women had a vague church background but showed genuine interest as they accepted the Scriptures. It truly felt like a divine appointment. We are praising the Lord for His protection and provision throughout the situation, especially as my friends were traveling with their young baby. What could have been a dangerous situation became a safe stop, a place of rest, and an open door for ministry.

I also want to thank you all for your continued interest and prayers regarding my schooling. As many of you know, I am currently in the United States completing my nurse practitioner clinical hours for graduation. Unfortunately, shortly after my start date, the office where I was scheduled to complete these hours became abruptly unavailable due to unexpected internal staffing changes.

While this was both frustrating and disappointing, I am reminded that the Lord was not surprised by this sudden change. I have been urgently searching for a new clinical site, and I am thankful to share that I have located a potential replacement. My school is currently in the process of approving this new site. As soon as that is complete, I will be able to resume my hours and continue moving forward.

I would greatly appreciate your continued prayers for this specific need. It is a delicate situation that requires the Lord's clear direction and provision as I trust Him each step of the way.

Thank you again for your continued prayers and support. The Lord is faithful, and it is a joy to serve Him together with you!

Best,

Sarah Goodman
